

Finally! Here is a book primarily for young children with an Autism Spectrum Disorder, although it is suitable for all children. It is designed to help them understand some of the very basic concepts that other children learn instinctively. It is well set out and illustrated with only one idea per page. The social scripts are easy to follow and the illustrations are appropriate for the script.

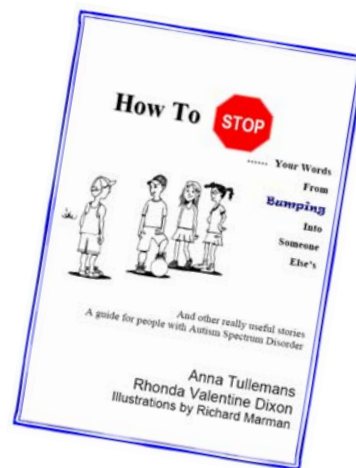

The contents include:

- How to get someone's attention.
- Starting a conversation.
- Interrupting someone.
- Asking someone to play.
- Asking to join someone's game.
- What if the person says no?
- How loud or soft should your voice be when.....?
- What to do when you lose.
- Listening to others.
- How to say sorry.
- How to ignore someone who is annoying you.

The cost of the book is $30.00.
